Editorial Policy
The Journal of Medical and Dental Sciences is published quarterly in March, June, September and December by Tokyo Medical and Dental University, Burukko-ku, Tokyo 113-8510, Japan. The Journal publishes authoritative, peer reviewed articles relevant to the medical and dental sciences. Manuscripts will appear under one of the following sections: original articles, reviews, mini reviews, short communications, case reports, technical innovations or statistical investigations. Review articles are in E-I. For details, see the article by Mizuno et al. on pages 101-111 of this issue.

Characteristics of rat spondial MSCs: Synovium-derived cells in rat formed cell colonies after plating at low density. The cells also differentiated into adipocytes, osteoblasts and chondrocytes in vitro after the inductions, demonstrating characteristics of MSCs. Bar = 5 mm in A-C. Bar = 50 μm in E-I. For details, see the article by Mizuno et al. on pages 101-111 of this issue.

Information for Contributors

1. Qualifications for Submission: To be eligible to submit manuscripts, the first author should be:
   1) Faculty and staff of Tokyo Medical and Dental University;
   2) Current student of Tokyo Medical and Dental University who has been recommended by his/her professor;
   3) Non-Retired, non-staff or non-current student of Tokyo Medical and Dental University who has received approval from the Board prior to manuscript submission;
   4) A person who has been invited by the Board to submit a manuscript.

2. Manuscripts should be submitted to the Editor-in-Chief, Administration Office of the University Library, Tokyo Medical and Dental University, 1-5-45, Yushima, Bunkyo-ku, Tokyo 113-8510, Japan.

3. The following types of papers will be considered for publication: original articles, reviews, mini reviews, short communications, case reports, technical innovations or statistical investigations.

4. The Journal of Medical and Dental Sciences is published quarterly in March, June, September and December by Tokyo Medical and Dental University. The Journal publishes authoritative, peer reviewed articles, reviews, mini reviews, short communications, case reports, technical innovations and statistical investigations.

5. The Journal of Medical and Dental Sciences is published quarterly in March, June, September and December by Tokyo Medical and Dental University. The Journal publishes authoritative, peer reviewed articles, reviews, mini reviews, short communications, case reports, technical innovations and statistical investigations.

6. Acceptability of the Journal

7. Manuscripts should be written in English.

8. The manuscript should be submitted on A4 paper and must contain approximately 4 pages (figures should be counted as 1 page). Submit 2 copies of the manuscript. Manuscripts submitted by electronic mail (Poppy disk, MD, CD, etc.) or by fax should be submitted. Figures and tables should be labeled with information on the computer model, name of software, manuscript title, and the name and affiliation of the first author.

9. Pages must be double-spaced and contain approximately 20 lines, on one side of the page. Figures and tables should be labelled as follows: [ex. Figure 1, Table I, Table II]. Each table should be presented on a separate sheet.

10. Figures and tables should be sized in consideration of the three possible presentations: A4, B5, and A3. When a commercial name is used, the first letter should be capitalized.

11. Figures should be arranged in numerical order according to their presentation in the text (ex. Table I, Table II). Each table should be presented on a separate sheet with the explanation and authors’ names written on the reverse side.

12. The second page of the manuscript must include the following:

   (1) Title
   (2) Full names of all authors
   (3) Affiliations
   (4) Running Head (within 50 letters)
   (5) Address

13. The text of the manuscript should be divided as follows:

   (1) Introduction
   (2) Materials and Methods
   (3) Results
   (4) Discussion
   (5) Acknowledgments

14. Legends

15. References

16. Scientific names of bacteria, animals and plants should be written in italics, and the first letter should be capitalized.

17. References should be presented as follows:

   [1] References should be arranged in numerical order according to the presentation in the text and listed double-spaced on separate sheets.

18. References to articles written in Japanese should specify whether an English abstract is available.

19. Journal abbreviations should follow the format reported in Index Medicus.

20. Articles cited from the Internet are as follows:

   (1) Web-only journal (published from electronic only) should be cited in the references.

21. In principle, Hora and Web sites should not be included in the reference list. However, if use of such materials is deemed necessary, these sources may be listed in the text or a footnote apart from the reference list, and the authors are required to provide a letter that explains why they must cite such materials.

22. Figures and tables should be sized in consideration of the three possible presentations: A4, B5, and A3. When a commercial name is used, the first letter should be capitalized.

23. Papers no longer than six printed pages will be published without page charges. Charges for additional pages will be quoted on request.

24. Authors will usually be asked to proofread their articles only once. Additional page charges will not be quoted on request.

25. Figures and tables should be sized in consideration of the three possible presentations: A4, B5, and A3. When a commercial name is used, the first letter should be capitalized.

26. The copyright for articles that appear in the Journal of Medical and Dental Sciences will be transferred to Tokyo Medical and Dental University. Compliance with these principles should be essential for scientific purposes.
